KTHR PHC Provider Teams conducting Community Wellness Assessments

Kelsey Trail Health Region's Primary Health Care Provider Teams will be conducting a series of Community Wellness Assessments throughout the region during the month of May.

"One of the ways of understanding the wellness needs of a community is to conduct a community wellness assessment," explained Rita Robertson, KTHR Senior Community Wellness Coordinator/Primary Health Care Facilitator. "The community wellness assessment is an opportunity for community members to provide our teams with their feedback and help identify concerns that the community-based Primary Health Care Provider Teams can work on."

This year, the Community Wellness Assessments will be conducted in person at community gathering places. The survey will also be available online from May 1 to May 31 through a link on the KTHR website at www.kelseytrailhealth.ca. Information gathered from the survey will be utilized by PHC Provider Teams to develop action plans to address wellness needs that have been identified by community members. Community suggestions that are identified and are beyond the Provider Team's ability to address will be forwarded to the appropriate agency.

The feedback provided by members of the community is critical to the work done by the local Provider Teams. To participate in the Community Wellness Assessment in your community or to complete the survey online go to KTHR website at www.kelseytrailhealth.ca.
